

[Opening shot of company logo, text animation that says 'Are you interested in starting a podcast?', and a landscape photo of a recording studio, the focal point of it is a microphone with a headset hanging off it.]

[Transitions into a brunette office lady with her right hand raised, with a confused expression on her face. There is a text animation that says 'Not sure how?']

[Fades away with another text animation that says 'What type equipment is needed?' and a video underneath that shows three people behind the scenes, adjusting cameras and light fixtures]

[Transitions into this video of this woman with dark curly hair inaudibly speaking. There is a text animation that says 'Do you have things you want to express?']

[Fades away to a different text animation that says 'Do you need help in gaining followers?' with three purple speech bubbles at the bottom. Each speech bubble has numbers rapidly increasing in likes, followers, and comments. There is also a picture of a fake stock graph of an accelerating arrow.]

[Fades away into text animations that say 'Uncommon Women is here to help you.' and 'Join our Podcast Academy.']

[Finally transitions to a video of students engaged in a classroom; however, the focal point of this short video is an instructor's hand wavering in the air. There is also text animation that says 'Starting September 11th for a 2 day online training class. For more information, sign up. There is also a black bubble with the form link to sign up: '<https://form.jotform.com/232130613960144>']
